I looked at this university called Ouachita and would have seen no more than a mass of the elements fused together in different recipes
had it not been for the individuals.

individual

THE INDIVIDUAL
strives toward self-actualization.
He experiments, he creates, he evaluates, attempting to discover
his identity.
He is motivated to grasp the significance of his individuality and,
using his initiative, develops unique abilities.

THE INDIVIDUAL
must retain the self
in the midst of crowds.
At times, he needs
solitude
in order, to hear the rhythm of his own mind.
It is then he appreciates the joy of being himself.

has his own means of expressing his character,
and the God-given gift
to animate his feelings.
These talents may,
at times, seem insignificant,
but this is the individual's unique mode of communication with other individuals

THE INDIVIDUAL athlete has a special feeling toward his sport. This feeling is accompanied by an inner drive that gives him self-discipline, strength, courage, and an acute desire to fulfill the pride in himself.

is often faced with the challenge of conflicting claims.
He must resolve within himself both the dogmas of the Bible and the intricacies of the molecule.
He thus balances his personal beliefs and attains a measure of inner stability.

is perpetually in thought.
Thoughts about a date for the game,
an empty post office box,
people he passed today,
and the sometimes frustrating thought
of facing tomorrow.
He is saturated with a kaleidoscope of ideas that reflect his experiences and values . . . and his uniqueness.

At first it was a campus—
a group of buildings,
trees, sidewalks,
and streets—
a place to study,
a place to learn,
and a place for fun—sometimes.
But it meant more when we met
its people,
people we learned to know
as individuals.

must keep his uniqueness not only in his life of
solitude,
but also in his relationship
with others.
The essence of being oneself is the implementation of one's singularity.

STUDENT LIFE

student life

stu-dent life n. 8a: that which imparts or excites spirit or vigor; an individual human existence.

Campus activities offer the place to become more than just a set of digits on a pictured ID card.
Our university presents students with opportunities for discovery and expression, as each progresses
on his way to the attainment of his distinctive identity.

summer

Everyone was relieved when the '69 spring finals were over. Most went home to a waiting summer job or relaxation, some stayed around for summer school, but some stayed for another reason. Those who graduated were perhaps the most relieved of all.

registration

Booklets, long lines,
advisors, closed classes,
schedule sheets,
degree plans,
fees to be paid —
this is registration.

If you're lucky,
it can be painless.

It's no easy task to schedule
eighteen hours the way you want and still have time to lead the life of a normal human being.

freshman orientation

Through the mass of beanies,
confusion,
contradiction and
social club drops, freshmen saw
the people and ideas that they were now a part of.

dorm life

Home: cozy cubicles lined up in halls or coupled in suites. Some new, some older.
Occupant's accumulated possessions strewn in defiance of room check.
Quiet hours dissolved in the throb of Led Zeppelin.
The frustration of occupied phones—on both connections.

ouachita theatre

The tradition of Thespis carried on under lights and greasepaint and the history of the theatre continued. After the audiences were gone, all that was left were the memories of a past performance.
The shouts, applause, triumphs—
all were gone.
The only touch of reality that exists is the echoing of footsteps on an empty stage.

OPPOSITE TOP: Glenda Williams. . . the murderess sorority sister burns a letter that could convict her in the summer production of This Little Hand. OPPOSITE BOTTOM: Mary Ann McRae and A. Roy Threet. . . Eurydice implores Creon to be more lenient in his treatment of Antigone in theatre director Dennis Holt's original version of Antigone. ABOVE: Cynthia Crews and A. Roy Threet . . . Creon mourns the death of Antigone which resulted from his blind insensitivity. LEFT: Cynthia Crews. . . Antigone compares her fate with that of the brave, free larks scorning the earth in their flight.

OPPOSITE TOP: John Lindsey, Sharon Smith, Randy Hyde, and Sherry Reynolds . . . The citizens of Spoon River listen as another attempts to make allowances for her missed-lived life in the Reader's Theatre production of Spoon River Anthology. OPPOSITE BOTTOM: Sherry Reynolds . . . after having led a poor life in Spoon River, the once beautiful matron transforms into a shriveled, old woman. LEFT: Tom Roberts. . . muses over his life and his death in Spoon River. BELOW: Sharon Smith and Randy Hyde. . . dance to a memory of the happy times in Spoon River. Roy Ambrester directed the production.

It wasn't easy to take a boy to dinner or ask him to Gamma Phi's Dogpatch USA, and it seemed out of place opening doors and doing the driving. But during Twirp Week sponsored by the Student Senate, girls found out why they were glad to be girls.

OPPOSITE TOP: Dr. Lofton Hudson, pastor-author, spoke in December on "Christ and the Sexual Revolution" and "Laying Foundations for Marriage."

OPPOSITE BOTTOM LEFT: Ferenc Nagy, a former Prime Minister of Hungary, spoke during an October chapel meeting on "The First of the Intellectuals for Freedom in East-Central Europe."

OPPOSITE BOTTOM RIGHT: Georgia legislator Julian Bond spoke in an outdoor September lecture at Henderson State College. Ouachita students were invited to attend by the HSC Student Senate.

LEFT: Dr. Charles Venus, economist, lectured in October on Arkansas, national and international issues.

BELOW LEFT: Arkansas Congressman David Pryor spoke in a January chapel meeting and to political science classes about "The Student's Interest in Environment."

BELOW RIGHT: Dale Millam of the University of Arkansas's music faculty was presented in a guest piano recital in October.

homecoming

Saturday—November 22—1 a.m.:

Weary-eyed girls returned to their dorms after special late permission to work on floats.
Boys continued to fashion chicken wire, crepe paper, boards and nails until the early hours of "Tigers Have True Grit" day.

2:30 p.m.:

This was the game when everybody arrived early, not only to claim their seats, but also to see the girls.

Sixteen . . . one to be singled out mums, a crown, a queen.

Saturday—November 22—10 a.m.:
A screaming siren, a drum roll,
and a beginning of the downtown homecoming parade.

Military VIPs, visiting bands,
floats (questionable by some students),
pretty coeds
and university officials—
they all passed in review.

TOP: "This Town Ain't Big Enough for the Both of Us" . . . Beta Beta's first place award float. MIDDLE: "Dr. Tiger's Reddie Remedy" . . . EEE's second place award float. BOTTOM: "Cheers to Victory" . . . Gamma Phi's third place award float.

Homecoming Queen

Ouachitonians profited from uniting to take a stand for something they thought to be right.
 Arguments for and against S.E.L.F. weren't the only sign of a thinking, healthy campus.
 As expected, the Vietnam War and the draft stirred up some activity in the form of two separate moratoriums—the Pro-Nixon Moratorium (bottom) backing the President's policies of a gradual withdrawal from Vietnam and the National Moratorium (middle) to show that a sizeable number of people wanted immediate peace in Vietnam.
 There was also a Henderson Moratorium (top) sponsored by the junior class to show support for the Tiger football team.

A student's Saturday seems uniquely his own. A blessedly blank day on a full schedule. The cafeteria staff provided more campus picnics. Fall football games topped off a leisurely day of sunning at the river or one spent in the dorm studying.

With little snow fall, but lots of rain, winter fell on Arkadelphia. The dampened weather seemed to only spur campus activity. There was the Singers and the Ouachi-tones Concerts, the 'EEE's "Coolside of Yuletide", organization's parties and dreaded finals after the Christmas break.

After a few false starts, spring finally got here. And with it the campus became more alive than ever. Some enjoyed the weather by just being with another person at a cook out. Others participated in Religious Emphasis Week or the commissioning of ROTC cadets. As spring turned to summer, seniors anxiously awaited graduation ceremonies.

March 9-14.
Rush was over and social club
pledging began. About 100 Ouachitonians began the week of menial tasks to show their loyalty to their prospective club. A few less made it completely through.

miss obu pageant

Blue Key, national honor fraternity for men, sponsored the Miss Ouachita Baptist University Pageant for the third year. The pageant consisted of competition in evening gowns, talent and swimsuit, with talent counting 50 per cent. A panel of out-of-town judges selected Marijo Kirkland of Deport, Texas, as the University's official entry in the Miss Arkansas Pageant.

The Tiger Band consisted of 80 marching members and 60 concert members under the direction of Marvin Lawson and graduate assistant Ray Vardaman.

Student section leaders and drill instructors were utilized to afford members individual musical attention. The marching group performed at all home football games and at the Southern State game in Magnolia.

The concert band toured Southwest Arkansas performing classical and popular music.

Four outdoor campus concerts were performed in April and May to cap off those staged in Mitchell Hall during the winter months.

ouachitonian

A gold-painted, cluttered office in Lakeside was the setting for many late-night work sessions for the Ouachitonian staff. Here the editor and his secretarial staff did page layouts, wrote copy and proofread pages.

Since its first publication, the book has striven to capture the memorable events, activities and people of each year and preserve them in lasting and attractive form. Recording the individual of Ouachita gives our yearbook not only its purpose, but also its name, Ouachitonian.

The staff added 28 pages to the 1970 edition, making it the largest in its publication history. Mosaic layouts were used this year to replace the informal style used in previous years.

photo staff

The photo staff of the department of journalism was composed of students enrolled in photography classes or those who had a strong interest in photography. The photographers took and processed all pictures for the Signal, the Ouachitonian, Alumni Bulletin and the campus news bureau.

Joe Class headed the staff as chief photographer. He was assisted by part-time workers David Lowery and Mark Pillow.

The staff renovated darkroom facilities and purchased several new pieces of equipment with the aid of publication and personal funds. They attempted to display a more complete understanding of the University student as an individual by directing their efforts toward creativity.

Frenzied deadlines, phones that never ceased ringing and letters from concerned students and irate politicians were part of the regular working day of the Signal, OBU's official student newspaper.

A team composed of five staff members determined the editorial policy of the bi-weekly paper. Editorial statements reflected the opinions of a majority of the editorial board, not necessarily reflecting the views of the University's administration. Undergraduates handled the photography, news reporting, editing and feature writing.

Boasting a circulation of 2,000, Signal distribution was made easier with the placement of six new purple circulation stands located on campus.

Special pictorial editions covered the Campus Beauty Pageant and the theatre opening of Dennis Holt's original version of "Antigone."

in sports.

COMPETITION

competition

com-pe-ti-tion n. 1: act of compet-

match.

More of an understanding of self is generated through physical contact with others.
Physical expression continues at an accelerated pace
with seemingly undying energy
and desire for competition.

The youthful Tigers, led by seniors
Eddie Buffington, John Wayne Cunningham,
Bobby Crouch, Mickey DeLamar, Doug Freeze, Cliff Harris and Dennis Pate, posted a 5-5 record.
No team had an easy time with OBU, as the widest margin of defeat was only seven points.
Harris, a senior safety, was signed to a three-year football contract by the Dallas Cowboys at the close of the season.
Much of the time in two-a-day practices
during the spring and actual game performances during the season was spent in learning the new offensive and defensive plays. Joining the coaching staff was Jimmy Jones and George Baker.

basketball

Picked to finish down in the pack of the AIC race, the Tigers surprised a lot of people by winning the AIC championship in 1969-70. Hustle, aggressiveness and desire brought Ouachita a 16-2 record and a first place finish in the AIC Division A. The climax of the season came when senior Tom Jones sank a 38-foot shot just before the buzzer to give the Tigers a 71-69 win over the Henderson Reddies in the finals of the AIC playoffs.

The roundballers opened their championship with a 3-3 mark for November. They claimed two victories from East Texas Baptist and one from Southeast Oklahoma. The losses came at the hands of Louisiana College (two) and Oklahoma Baptist. Ouachita won its first six conference games in December, defeating Arkansas College, Arkansas A&M, Arkansas Tech, Harding, State College and Southern State. During the Christmas break, they lost to Arkansas AM&N. At the Holiday Tournament in Natchitoches, La., the Tigers lost to Northwestern La. and then defeated Quantico Marine Base.

The Tigers faced six conference foes in January and came out on top, 5-1. Wins came over College of the Ozarks, Hendrix, Arkansas College, Arkansas A&M and Arkansas Tech. Henderson State was the first AIC team to defeat OBU.

Ouachita closed out its regular season in February with another 5-1 mark. They won the first four, defeating Harding, State College, College of the Ozarks and Hendrix before losing to Henderson again. They closed the regular season with a 73-68 comeback victory over Southern State.

Carrying a 16-2 record into the AIC playoffs, the Tigers defeated Arkansas College, 75-61 in the opening game. In the championship game with the Reddies, Jones hit the long, last second shot for the difference, 71-69.

Arkansas Tech defeated Ouachita in the first game of the District 17 NAIA playoffs at Pine Bluff, 75-65. In a consolation game, Henderson downed the Tigers 56-41. Coach Bill Vining was named Coach of the Year in District 17 of the NAIA.

tigerettes

The Tigerettes posted a 14-3 record this season with all three losses coming at the hands of Wayland Baptist College. Coached by Carolyn Moffatt, the Tigerettes were ranked sixth in the nation throughout the season due to their sixth place finish in the National AAU tournament in 1969. Women's basketball began experimenting this year with a modified form of international rules and will do so for two years. In international basketball rules, each team uses five girls playing full court and there is a 30-second time limit on shooting the ball.

The girl cagers opened their season with two victories over the Mexican National team. They followed this by sweeping two from the Raytown Piperettes. The Tigerettes picked up two more wins from Belmont College and Southern State before losing their first two to Wayland. Ouachita bounced back by taking two from John F. Kennedy College and splitting two games with Wayland.

They defeated Arkansas Tech 60-42 to win their first in-state game.

The Tigerettes claimed the Arkansas Women's Extramural Sports Association tournament by taking victories over Arkansas Tech, the University of Arkansas, and Southern State. A 53-40 win over Southern State closed out the regular season of play.

Ouachita was expected to successfully defend its title as Arkansas AAU champions for the sixth straight year in the spring of 1970 and have high standings in the National College Invitational in Amarillo, Texas, and in the National AAU in Gallup, New Mexico.

1969 track

The Ouachita thinclads finished fourth in the 1969 AIC meet at Little Rock. The Tigers, coached by Bob Gravette, scored $34\frac{1}{2}$ points to finish behind State College with 73, Southern State with $62\frac{1}{2}$ and Harding with 36. Tom Jones was the only OBU trackster to win a first place award. Jones took first place in the shot with a record throw of 53-11.

Jones won the shot with a toss of 146-1. Six Ouachita track and field records fell during the season.

A team of Laurence Cook, Bill Baxter, Doug Hasley, and Ralph Owens set a new 880-yard relay mark of 1:27.5. A new mile relay record of 3:19.7 was set by a team of Cliff Harris, Doug Trent, Dwight Gragg, and Ralph Owens.

Tom Jones set new records of 55-5 and 157-6 in the shot and discus respectively. Buzz Andrews broke the previous records in the 120 and 440-yard hurdles.

Andrews covered the 120 highs in 14.5 and the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in 53.4. The cross country team finished fifth among the ten AIC teams in 1969. Four lettermen returned for the long distance sport.

intramurals

The intramural program at Ouachita was enlarged during the 1969-70 school year. The program, headed by Coach Bill Goff, included six sports each semester.

Flag football, tennis, swimming, badminton, basketball, and handball were scheduled during the fall semester.

The Trojans won the independent football league title with a 6-0 record and then defeated Beta I, social club league champs, to take the overall title. Sigma Alpha Sigma won the tennis championship and both the handball and badminton championships of the social club league. The Nut Squad took titles in the independent league handball and badminton.

The S's finished first in swimming among the social club teams with the Suds, freshmen swimming team, taking the independent class.

In the two preliminary basketball tournaments, Sigma Alpha Sigma claimed the top spot of the social club league with the Napalm Bombers winning the independent and overall title.

Sports scheduled for the spring semester included volleyball, table tennis, softball, weight lifting, track, and archery.

Intramural directors: Bill Goff, Jim Miller, David Watts, and Lloyd Jones.

STUDIES

studies

stud-ies n. 3a: that which one examines to acquire knowledge of a subject; earnest and reasoned effort.

Academic opportunity at Ouachita varies as much as the diversified curricula and the hundreds of courses covering all areas of study.

Each student faces squarely the need to define for himself the worth and value of what he wants, or eventually he will ask himself, "What is it all for?"

business and economics

The click of typewriter keys . . .
 the ring of a carriage . . . heads bowed together over a statistics problem . . .
 a new case to recite in business law . . . the constant search for solutions to various problems of economy . . .
 a minute but tragic error in the ears . . . glasses pushed down on noses.

Dr. Lera Kelly—division chairman

A methods course using type-writing classes as labs was offered by the business administration department to give prospective teachers experience in teaching typing and shorthand before they did their practice teaching.

Accounting and economics classes emphasized the theory and the non-theory of the business process.

Secretarial science majors participated in the new two-year terminal program for future executive secretaries, office managers or church secretaries.

Field trips, guest speakers and studies of employer-employee relations were interwoven in this year's classes to encourage the personality development of business students, a new aspect of business thought.

education

Another lesson plan to be presented tomorrow. . . posters to make for visual aids. . . a wax figure to carve on the grade school level. . . a reading report due on the psychology of the learner. . . an exciting group discussion on "mini-skirted" teachers. . . a party to plan for fifth graders . . . the anxiety of waiting for a practice teaching assignment. . . the day the block courses end and actual teaching begins.

Dr. Dewey Chapel—division chairman

New methods of teacher preparation and presentation were emphasized along with the utilization of mechanical aids such as the controlled reader. Rate of reading, vocabulary and comprehension were proved integral to a learner's ability to grasp knowledge. Remedial and developmental materials were made available to students by the elementary and secondary education departments. The system of grading practice teaching was changed from a letter grade to a pass-fail basis.

The library science section began placing student teachers in public school libraries to gain a working knowledge of their teaching field.

Psychology was also an active sector of the division with regular field trips to Arkansas State Hospital. Research orientation and an active liaison with the Arkadelphia branch of the Arkansas Children's Colony.

Health and physical education encompasses both classroom and activity courses. Driver's education promoted safe driving.

humanities

A day's work on a single pencil sketch that didn't quite fit the count. . . a dialogue spoken in French with a slight American accent. . . another sleepy hour in listening lab. . . that debate that took so long to plan, yet so little time to deliver. . .

a lump in the throat while waiting to give a speech. . . the all-night vigil to finish
a term paper started not long before. . .
applause—approval for weeks of tiring dramatic production rehearsal. . . a poem that no one but the prof seemed to understand.

The art department, stressing areas of commercial and teaching art, offered courses in design, painting, sculpture and art history and education.

A new remedial program in English was established along with a new reading lab and listening program. Freshmen were taught effective use of the library in a fresh outlook on research in theme writing.

Foreign language students utilized listening labs and class dialogue for proper development of depth.

A course for prospective journalism teachers was offered in the journalism department after announcement that journalism had been approved by the State Board of Education as a teaching core.

A new curriculum for speech majors was developed which included plans for courses in persuasion and propaganda, rhetoric of the Negro, debate competition and psychology of speech. The drama department staged seven productions during the year, three directed by students.

Dr. Victor Oliver—division chairman

religion and philosophy

A sermon to deliver on Sunday and it's already Saturday afternoon. . . a synopsis of Acts to write, then one of Matthew, and another of Mark. . . trying to keep the journeys of Paul from running together in the mind. . . a book report on one of the great philosophers of our time. . . another logic test question to be answered "logically" . . . separating Plato, Aristotle and Socrates and their respective thought.

Dr. Vester Wolber—division chairman

The division of religion and philosophy placed emphasis on ancient and contemporary thinkers and their contributions to modern religion and philosophic thought.

Preparation for church-related vocations was one of the prime objectives of the religion department as it laid a foundation for the future leaders of our churches. An effective and vital ministry was established to which Ouachita students could relate.

Courses of the division also included those of philosophy, logic, ethics, and living religions.

social science

The echoing and re-echoing of a campaign speech. . . learning that people are individuals
 . . . a heated discussion on civil rights. . . a special project on the subject of air pollution
 . . . studying all night for that world civ exam
 . . . a paper on the pros and cons of lowering the voting age. . . those endless night classes in the old bookstore. . . a cheer at a political rally and a smile for the following reception. . .
 arguments over coffee about the merits of a certain political candidate. . . being able to speak out and voice your opinion.

Dr. Bob C. Riley—division chairman

The world and how man relates to it was the focus of study in the division of social science. A student in the division found himself in the midst of a search for answers to the problems of man and the world in which he lives.

The history department changed its curriculum in World and American Civilization by meeting in combined classes twice a week and in small discussion groups once a week.

"Black Politics in America" was offered by the political science department as a new special studies course. This was the first such course of study in the South and gave students an introduction to society's contemporary problems. In April, six students represented Ouachita at the Model United Nations in New York.

Sociology offered students in-depth studies of such related fields as social work, religious-centered vocations and higher education.

military science

The shuffle of feet in procession. . .
hands in salute. . .the sharp commands of a drill officer. . .giving shoes that
"see-yourself" shine. . .polishing endless brass articles. . .listening intently to a lecture on strategy. . .holding your breath as the inspector checks your rifle and
you. . .a cold morning and another field problem.

LTC Edgar David—department chairman

Basics of weaponry, drilling, map reading and military history were topics of discussion in the military science department.

In addition to MS IIIs and IVs, the department established a two-hour credit system for its MS II students.

The cadet drill program and corps were reorganized with MS IIs now receiving military instruction training. A cadet newsletter began publication to inform the campus about the corps and its activities.

Each Tuesday the department presented general interest films in Riley Library for faculty and student viewing.

school of music

Tension on the day of a senior recital. . .
 a voice lesson and there has been little time to practice. . . finally an "A" on a harmony test. . . two more songs to transpose before class. A band concert
 . . . painstakingly learning the essentials of music composition. . . an invitation to join Singers and a dream come true. . .
 endless hours spent in that lonesome practice room. . . playing for a never-ending number of audiences. . . the mixture of sounds which give a somewhat eerie effect to Mitchell Hall.

Dr. William Trantham—dean

Training of musicians was the chief objective of Ouachita's school of music. This training included instruction in the areas of voice, piano, instrumental music, organ, theory-composition and conducting and arranging.

Fundamental techniques for musical construction and creative writing in the 20th century style were stressed in theory-composition. Also included was the annual symposium in April where works of students received a public performance.

Music education, church music, and applied music were stressed as the division reached out to encompass every phase of musical endeavor.

graduate school

Education... a non-ending process...
one diploma and on into another cycle for the additional degree... lectures and guest speakers... papers, diaries, and charts... days and nights of tedious research... typing and then re-typing
those somewhat detestable assignments
... striving for the day when all this extra studying proves to be of value.

Dr. Dewey Chapel—director

Advanced degrees in music and elementary and secondary education were offered by OBU's school of graduate studies. Graduate students were required to take thirty hours beyond their undergraduate degree plus six hours in thesis writing. The option was given to education students of either taking additional course work or writing the thesis. Several graduate students aided faculty members with areas of instruction on the undergraduate level.

THE INDIVIDUAL,
communicating with others
and striving for understanding,
makes Ouachita go . . .
the administrators, secretaries,
faculty members,
maintenance people
and the student body.

FACES

president

A new man on the job whose father, the late J. R. Grant, was president of Ouachita from 1934 to 1949. Because of commitments in his former position at Vanderbilt University, Dr. Grant didn't assume his duties in a full time capacity until February. He promised students an "open-door" and "open-ear" policy, balanced concern for educational and Christian excellence, a major effort at fund raising and treatment of each student as an individual person.

Dr. Grant has gained recognition as an authority on urban government and intergovernmental relations and has been active in research, writing and consulting in these fields.

Our leadership—renowned, persuasive and respected.

Dr. Daniel Grant

interim president

Dr. D. M. Seward was named interim president by the board of trustees and served in that capacity until Dr. Daniel Grant, president-elect, arrived on campus in February.

Professor of mathematics, Dr. Seward has been on the OBU faculty since 1942.

Dr. D. M. Seward

trustees

Ouachita is owned and operated by the Arkansas Baptist State Convention which selects a board of trustees to aid in financial and administrative decisions. The board met three times during the academic year.

administration

This is the power structure.
It is most commonly called the "Administration."

Wayne Smith returned from a year's leave of absence to become registrar and director of admissions. James Orr, vice president of finance, handled expenditures of the university. Dr. James Haggard, dean of students, completed his Dr. of Education and Psychology and Counseling early in the year.

Dr. James Berryman assumed the position of acting vice president of academics in the summer.
Jim McCommas, director of men and assistant to the president, also took on the duties of director of alumni affairs.

professor

pro-fes-er n. 2c: one who teaches or professes special knowledge of an art, sport, or occupation requiring special skill.

These are the individuals that make OBU a marketplace of ideas.
They all are violently alive
in the University life,
and in the "world beyond the classroom."
A truly fascinating lot.

THE INDIVIDUAL
comes across a state
across a nation, across a world
to join this community—Arkadelphia.
A few come permanently,
but most on a transient basis.

COMMUNITY / INDEX

community

com-muni-ty n. 1: a body of individuals living in the same place under the same law; likeness.

Arkadelphia is not merely a conglomeration of steel and stone.
It is people, whose individual lives interlock each day and give the community its living,
breathing soul.
A city of 10,115.

FOR OTHER OCCASIONS

Find a new way to create beauty at the STONEWARE WORKSHOP, 510 South Sixth. You can budget your time and funds while creating gifts for yourself and others.

Cards for all occasions, school supplies and stationery are part of the merchandise available at McCORKLE OFFICE SUPPLIES at 110 South Sixth.

Top quality dairy products with that fresh country flavor are provided by the OUACHITA VALLEY DAIRY ASSOCIATION of Camden.

A great deal of your future depends on the durability of those things around which your everyday life is centered. Spanning new horizons, the Robert P. Patterson Plant of REYNOLDS METALS COMPANY provides such things.

Friendly banking might be just a trite phrase to a lot of folks, but that's the way MERCHANTS AND PLANTERS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY does business. A member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the "bank of friendly service" is located at 526 Main.

Whether it's basketball or Rugby, SOUTHWEST SPORTING GOODS COMPANY at Sixth and Clinton has exactly the sporting equipment you need.

The bank "wanting to serve you most" is CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK at 506 Main. Two drive-in windows and an auto bank are available to help you bank with ease.

Attentive sales clerks make shopping at FULLER DRUG STORE a relaxing experience. Twenty-four-hour prescription service is offered by this Walgreen agency.

For quality insurance at a savings, LEWIS AND NORWOOD of Little Rock provide their customers with the best in automobile, fire and casualty insurance.

For female apparel that is right in focus for now, RUTH STUART SHOP at 615 Clinton has everything you need.

CLARK COUNTY LUMBER COMPANY at 207 South Eighth has everything to build anything.

The main bank at Sixth and Main and a motor bank at Fourteenth and Pine help to identify ELK HORN BANK AND TRUST COMPANY as the bank offering "complete banking service." It is a member of the Federal Reserve System and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

BOWEN'S TOWN HOUSE RESTAURANT at Tenth and Caddo offers nutritional and refreshing meals. Buffet service, featuring a variety of dishes, is available from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Located at 510 Main, printing of all types is handled by the capable staff at SOUTHERN STANDARD, printers of The Signal.

Nice feet deserve attractive shoes found at TOM CHANDLER'S SHOE CENTER, 619 Main, dealer in footwear from boots to sandals.

From the foothills of the Ozarks, MURFREESBORO LUMBER COMPANY manufactures Arkansas pine lumber.

Friendly service with the speed of sound is offered to customers at SONIC DRIVE-IN, 303 North Tenth.

Careful attention to your car distinguishes CADD O ESSO as a dependable service station. Motorists benefit from the expert repair service and the official inspection station.

Helping to build a greater Ouachita is one of the jobs of BRUCE R.

ANDERSON ARCHITECT. From his office located in Little Rock, Mr. Anderson specializes in architectural design.

Newly situated at Highway 8 and Interstate 30, SHEPHERD AUTO SALES INC. sells new Buicks, Pontiacs and Oldsmobiles and has dependable used cars and repair service.

On the corner of Seventh and Main, WOODELL DRUG STORE provides an after-class roost for the liberated scholar and satisfies every customer's personal needs.

Short or tall, wide brim or no brim, or with a top feather describe the wide selection of hats at McCORMICK'S SPECIALTY SHOP. Other apparel needs are also available. Personal service moves many Arkadelphians to do their shopping at 629 Main.

DeLAMAR MOTOR COMPANY at Sixth and Clay is the one-stop center for new Chevrolets and Cadillacs. Selling used cars as well, repair service is also available.

Arkadelphia residents receive good service and dependability from FLAIG'S GULF SERVICE at 134 North Tenth.

The HOLIDAY INN of Arkadelphia has everything for making your stay more comfortable. When in the mood for luxury dining, the Iron Gate Restaurant is available and features U.S. choice steaks.

Only the best equipment and expert help is used by BEN RED STUDIO of Little Rock in developing and printing your Ouachitonian picture.

Customers can solve a last minute emergency concerning school supplies, prescriptions or photographic supplies at PHILLIPS DRUG STORE, 210 South Sixth, your Rex-all store.

One smile.
Uniquely his own.
No one else has his smile,
or his destiny.
It is his to shape,
for at Ouachita he is an individual
set apart from the mass.

The mass is elsewhere.
Ouachita and oneness are the same,
working together to plant the seeds of destiny.
Some will make it.
Some will not.
But the opportunity was here.

editor's note

Creating a yearbook is a tremendous job. It means work during holidays, constant worry about deadlines, thinking of ways to present the year. Taken piece by piece, job by job, there is nothing about yearbook work that is thrilling. However, the job as a whole, the purpose of the work, is a thrill.

My sincerest gratitude goes to those very few who worked to make this book and to those who contributed advice, encouragement, and inspiration. A special thanks to P. W. for providing me with companionship on all those lonely days.

We had difficult times. Working with a new layout and copy concept and experiencing the every-year problems that come up and take much of the staff's time and energy.

We feel the '70 OUACHITONIAN is, however, a book that the individual can identify with and one to which we have given our best. It has a special meaning to us because we put it together. We will see more errors than you probably ever will; but we will also see the work and the problems behind each page.
